ChartLogic offers powerful medical practice management tool to physicians

Salt Lake City, Utah - July 24, 2007 - ChartLogic continues to evolve beyond being best of breed in Electronic Medical Records (EMR) by launching its medical practice management software suite that provides physician practices across the country an answer to easing economic pressures such as higher costs and lower reimbursements.

ChartLogic's Practice Management helps improve Accounts Receivable balances, reduce billing and management costs, and is equipped with security that exceeds HIPAA requirements.

Practice Management enables physicians to achieve significantly higher levels of patient care, efficiency and profitability while simultaneously allowing them to return to the primary interest of practicing medicine, according to ChartLogic Vice President of Marketing Tim Barrett.

"Today's physicians want their practices to function properly and efficiently to be successful," Barrett said. "ChartLogic Practice Management comes complete with medical billing and scheduling software in addition to claims denial tracking, carrier and responsible party reports, and automated collection work lists. This comprehensive array of tools in the software will help medical practices operate efficiently."

ChartLogic Practice Management features that benefit physician practices include:

- Superior claims and coding tools, which guarantee a claim rejection rate of less than five percent. This is far below the industry average of about 30 percent.
- Reduction of Accounts Receivables and increase of reimbursement percentages.
- Security that exceeds HIPAA requirements in addition to free live technical support.
- Secure access to ChartLogic Practice Management at no additional cost from multiple locations such as a home, surgery center, or anywhere a practice has a computer with internet access.

ChartLogic has been a leader in the EMR industry since 1994. A feature-rich, comprehensive EMR, ChartLogic is usable by anyone in the practice. The user-friendly EMR software has helped thousands of doctors address the hurdle of transitioning from paper to digital medical practices without headaches or fear. Superior voice-recognition technology coupled with hundreds of customizable forms means the most flexible system at your fingertips. The system adapts to fit how a physician works; not vice versa.

ChartLogic also offers support and training representatives to help ease the pain of adopting an EMR. A comprehensive implementation process and one-on-one physician training means a clinic receives the training it needs and ensures success for each physician, regardless of their previous computer experience.

By adding medical practice management to its suite of products, ChartLogic now provides a fully integrated, total office solution for physicians, which also includes the enhanced Document Management launched earlier this year.

Document Management allows greater control and management of documents, pictures and images, enables connectivity to medical devices and can greatly speed up the scanning process through bulk scanning with easy indexing.

ChartLogic Document Management streamlines workflows across the practice and provides access and solutions in a real-time, multi-site environment in medical records, revenue cycle management and back-office operations.
